Open Gardens at Berry – order and number of gardens to be visited on the day might vary:

21 King Street, Berry - AVIA HORTU

Follow streams of lawn flowing around wide, intensively planted garden rooms to find the interesting and the unusual. This is an entrancing garden which reflects its owner's energy, enthusiasm and long career in horticulture. The loss of a very large tree has seen the woodland garden evolve to include a hidden sunny seating area.

1 Gwenda Avenue, Berry

Enjoy the colour and variety that can be created in a small town garden in five years. Designed to capture the imagination and stimulate the senses, this garden features blossom trees, Crepe Myrtles, Magnolias, weeping Maples, Roses, Gardenias and numerous Camellias. Annuals and cottage garden plantings add colour and movement.

3 Queen St., Berry - "RETROSPECT"

Surrounding one of Berry's old timber cottages, this garden offers diverse plantings of perennials, succulents, native plants and spring blooms. Arches and trellises form interesting corners and Mount Hay provides an eye-catching backdrop. Time taken to study the many carefully designed plantings will be well rewarded.

116 Broughton Vale Road, Berry - OKES CAMELLIA GARDEN

Another original garden, an abundance of Camellias features here but there is also much more to discover. It is a plant hunter's garden, showcasing rare maples from China, Japanese maples, Magnolias, Kurume azaleas and Pieris. A rose, day lily and Gardenia garden was planted in 2010. Remnant rainforest in this 37 year old garden has been carefully preserved.

180 Tindalls Lane, Berry – LOGGERHEADS

Set in beautiful Broughton Vale, this 2.5 ha property is a landscaped parklike garden featuring wooded borders, extended lawns and contemporary garden sculptures by international and local artists. Water features include a well-shaped creek with associated bog featuring Lilies and Irises and a reflecting pond with overflow rill.

Berry Bowling Club:

The Berry Bowling Club, known as the family club, is located at the north entrance to Berry on the banks of Broughton Creek. A main meal, dessert and tea/coffee will be served.
